“Parental Support is eight times more important in determining a child’s academic success than social class” [Campaign for Learning]

We would like to remind you of our Year 11 Information Evening at The Coleshill School, where we will be providing you with essential details, strategies and resources to help you to support your child during this important academic year. We recognise the importance of parent-teacher communication as it helps to improve students' academic achievements.

The evening will consist of a welcome talk led by the Head of School Miss Brindley and past year 11 students. Following this, we are offering a series of mini workshops, led by senior staff, covering key areas, to include:

- Details on how The Coleshill School can work in partnership with parents/carers to ensure the best outcomes for your child
- Supporting your child’s mental health and wellbeing, so they are ready for their exams and build their level of resilience
- The importance of home-learning [it would be hugely beneficial if you bring along your child’s school issued iPad to this session] and how this can support and enhance their learning and progress
- A range of effective revision strategies and support materials to develop retention and recall of information

The school will also be providing you with a booklet containing key takeaways from the evening. We value your ongoing support as parents/carers and therefore, we strongly recommend that you attend this event so that you are fully informed of what lies ahead during this critical year in your child’s education and how to continue to support them.

Should you have any queries relating to this evening, please do not hesitate to contact the school via enquiries@thecoleshillschool.org.uk

I really look forward to seeing you all at the evening.

Yours faithfully

J Simmons
