Dear Parents and Carers

We hope this letter finds you well and that you and your family are looking forward to a relaxing and enjoyable summer break. As the holidays approach, we wanted to provide you with some important information regarding your child's access to the internet and apps on their school-issued iPad.

To promote healthy screen time habits and encourage time away from digital devices, we have implemented a schedule to remove all apps from the iPad at 8:00pm each evening. This will allow your child to engage in other activities, spend quality time with family, and establish a healthy balance between online and offline pursuits. Applications will become visible again at 7.30am

For those of you who are travelling abroad this summer, please note that school-issued iPads may not be brought abroad. This is to ensure the device's security and compliance with any regional restrictions or regulations that may apply. We appreciate your cooperation in this matter

For parents who would like to have additional controls and monitor their child's iPad usage, we recommend activating the Jamf Parent app. This app provides you with valuable insights into your child's activities on the device, allowing you to set usage limits, and manage screen time effectively. Instructions for activating the Jamf Parent app can be found below.

During the holidays, your child's internet usage will be filtered and monitored as usual. Should your child attempt to access any inappropriate sites, this will be logged and addressed in the new academic year. Should your child try to access any content that indicates that they may be at risk of harm, one of the Trust's Safeguarding leads will contact you. If we cannot make contact, and we believe your child to be at risk of imminent harm, we will contact the police. Please rest assured that such occurrences are thankfully very rare.

We would also like to take this opportunity to remind you of the importance of digital citizenship and online safety. We encourage you to have open conversations with your child about responsible internet usage, online privacy, and the potential risks associated with sharing personal information online. Reinforcing these principles will help ensure that your child has a positive and secure online experience.
